ABOUT CLINIPOST

Connecting Healthcare Systems to Top Pharmacist Professionals

CliniPost is a medical and healthcare search firm that specializes in recruitment services within the Pharmacy industry. CliniPost approaches each and every assignment with a personalized approach by custom-tailoring to fit our clients' needs.

We place Pharmacy professionals from staff and clinical specialist to the highest managerial levels, while partnering with acute care hospitals, rehab hospitals, and long term care facilities.

CliniPost has a level of commitment and sense of urgency that each search is given, and this has created lifelong relationships with many well-known health systems nationwide. Our unique experience within the clinical and managerial levels of the pharmacy industry has allowed us to gain a deep understanding of the assignments we engage in. We have a proven track record for successful placements. Due to our detailed screening in finding the right fit for our clients, we consistently present candidates that not only have the required skill set but also are a fit for our clients' culture, unique features, and geographical location.

Working with CliniPost will reduce employee turnover and improve corporate productivity.
